

THE SALATA INSTITUTE FOR CLIMATE AND SUSTAINABILITY
at Harvard University Presents

The First Year Climate Primer Program

WE ARE HIRING!

The FCPP is a pioneering initiative designed to introduce incoming students to the critical issues surrounding climate change and environmental sustainability. Through interactive modules, discussions, and hands-on projects, students will gain a deeper understanding of the climate crisis and explore pathways for action.

We are hiring 4-6 undergraduates for two PAID part-time roles:
Cohort Leaders and Student Program Coordinators

Cohort Leader Responsibilities:

- Assisting with resource, program, and curriculum development
- Teaching program participants the devised curriculum, offering office hours and mentorship
- Building community with participants

$1000-1500 STIPEND

APPLY NOW

Ideal candidates should have experience with education, community building, and climate change

Program Coordinator Responsibilities:

- Adapting program curriculum to the reflections of prior participants
- Overseeing program throughout the summer, offering participants administrative support as needed
- Organizing final Project Symposium

$20/hour PAY

APPLY NOW

Ideal candidates should have experience in climate change leadership, education, and/or project management

APPLICATION CLOSES 1/19/25

More Information:

 oonagaffney@harvard.edu